Editorial Note

The Korean Journal of Linguistics (KJL) is a refereed journal of linguistics, published quarterly by the Korean Linguistic Association.

The purpose of the journal is to promote research in all areas of linguistics, including theoretical, descriptive, and applied linguistics.

The journal also aims to provide a forum for the exchange of ideas and information among scholars and practitioners of linguistics in Korea and abroad.

The journal is open to submissions from all over the world, and welcomes manuscripts in English or Korean.

The journal is peer-reviewed, and follows a strict double-blind review process.
